Re: Business Opportunity Rule, R511993

To Whom It May Concern,

I am very concerned about the proposed Business Opportunity Rule R511993. I believe the way it is set up, would make it almost impossible to work my business in a successful manner.

I was diagnosed with M.S. 5 years ago, my life depended on family members: My daughters cleaned my house and my husband did the cooking. I began the nutrients 2 years ago this month, my life has not been the same. My desire, is to give people hope where there is hopelessness, to become more healthy and financially secure.

I am very confident in the company and the way the business is set up. I have personally seen lives changed because of the nutritional products. Also, helps them to work the business in order to get their products paid for and become successful, as we have. This business has given me a plan and purpose for my life.

The seven day waiting period is unreasonable and unnecessary in the protection of the customers. It will cause unnecessary delays along with a negative light. Other businesses do not have this restriction and would most certainly hinder our business in a serious way.

In the area of litigation reporting: It is unfair when it has nothing to do with winning or losing lawsuits.

It makes no sense or practical to find 10 nearest distributors. Talk about taking away our freedom, which is against all that the free enterprise system is about!!! There are many of us that have worked tirelessly to build trusting relationships, with those that have lost all trust because of people taken advantage of them. Most of who, were sent to us by family and friends. I care very much for each person that is in my organization and would not be so sure the care would continue, if they were put in the wrong hands. Please don't take this chance!

I do understand there are fraudulent groups, however, the FTC's proposed rule would unfairly target legitimate direct selling businesses.

Thank you for your time,
Sincerely,

Mike and Helen Stahle
